Midcoast Energy Announces Anchor Shipper Commitment and Binding Open Season for CJ Express Expansion Project

Houston, April 26, 2019 – Midcoast Energy, LLC (“Midcoast”), through its East Texas operating subsidiary, has entered into commercial agreements with an anchor shipper and one of the leading producers in the Haynesville, for its CJ Express pipeline expansion project. In order to finalize the CJ Express expansion project, Midcoast is conducting a binding Open Season and expects to expeditiously complete negotiations with additional shippers.

The CJ Express project will deliver natural gas produced in the Haynesville into premium demand markets along the U.S. Gulf Coast. CJ Express will connect Midcoast’s existing pipeline assets in San Augustine County, Texas, and growing production in the Carthage and Shelby Trough area of the Haynesville Shale, to Midcoast’s Clarity pipeline near Silsbee, Texas. The project is expected to provide incremental delivery capacity for up to 1.0 Bcfd from the Carthage area to multiple Gulf Coast markets.

CJ Express will include up to 107 miles of 36” pipeline and a 39,000 HP compressor station. Midcoast expects the expansion project to have an in-service date in early 2021.

Prospective shippers and other interested parties should visit www.midcoastenergy.com for more information about the Open Season, which will run through May 17, 2019.

About Midcoast Energy, LLC
